Accoya Decking

OVERVIEW

International Timber is a distributor of Accoya decking nationwide.& It is a high performance sustainable timber product which created a deck that will outlast and outperform other unmodified species. It embodies the beauty of natural wood with exceptional performance characteristics.

Spanning eight decades of research, Accoya wood combines past and present scientific wood acetylation study with a proprietary production process to deliver reliable commercial scale results. The acetylation process used to make Accoya is entirely non-toxic and introduces no chemicals that are not already found in the wood.

In producing Accoya wood, the chemical structure of the wood is modified from the surface to the core, providing outstanding and durable performance.

Profiles Available – International Timber offer a wide range of bespoke machined decking profiles and will tailor individual requirements.
